Public Health Consultation
Evaluation of Exposure to Contaminants in Ambient Air from the Bright Feeds facility
Berlin, Connecticut

FINAL October 30, 2025

Executive Summary

Bright Feeds is a food recycling facility located in Berlin, CT that started their operations in late October of 2022. The facility accepts food waste and processes the waste into animal feed. Since the time the facility began operating, some members of the surrounding community reported experiencing odors from the facility and expressed concern about potential health impacts from their exposure to air emissions from the facility. In response to questions and concerns expressed by the community, the CT Department of Public Health (DPH) was asked by local health leaders in Berlin to evaluate health risks from exposure to contaminants in air emissions from the Bright Feeds Facility.

DEEP used an air dispersion model to estimate ambient air concentrations of contaminants measured in stack emissions from Bright Feeds. DPH used the modeled ambient air concentrations developed by DEEP to estimate cancer and noncancer risks from exposure and to qualitatively evaluate odor exposures. The key conclusions reached by the DPH are as follows:

- On initial screening, the concentrations of two chemicals (ethanol and acetaldehyde) in the modeled ambient air concentrations exceeded health protective screening values.
- Results of further evaluation using site-specific exposure information show that breathing acetaldehyde and ethanol at the ambient air concentrations modeled by DEEP from the startup of the Bright Feeds Facility to the installation of the RTO is not expected to harm the health of community members.
- The ambient air concentration of one contaminant (acetaldehyde) is within the range that could be detected as odors.

In conclusion, breathing contaminants at the ambient air concentrations modeled by DEEP is not expected to harm the health of community members. These conclusions are based on DPH's risk assessment of the ambient air concentrations modeled by DEEP from stack test emission results and subject to the limitations noted later in this report.

I. Purpose

The purpose of this health consultation is to report DPH's assessment of potential health impacts from exposure to contaminants detected in stack emissions from the Bright Feeds facility in Berlin, CT, based on testing performed by a third-party test contractor and audited by DEEP.

II. Background

Bright Feeds, located at 76 Fuller Way, Berlin, CT is a food recycling facility. It takes a variety of different food wastes and applies a drying technology to turn the waste food into animal feed. Bright Feeds has been operating in its Berlin location since October 2022 (email from DEEP, June 3, 2025). During 2023 and 2024, DEEP received a number of complaints from the community about noise and odors, resulting in multiple inspections of the facility by DEEP staff. During an inspection in May 2024, DEEP documented nuisance odors and issued a notice of violation (NOV) to Bright Feeds. After the NOV was issued, DEEP continued to document odors, sometimes at nuisance levels, from the Bright Feeds facility (email from DEEP, June 3, 2025). On November 4, 2024, DEEP issued a requirement to Bright Feeds to test its dryer stack emissions.

Bright Feeds conducted a test of their dryer stack emissions on January 10, 2025. As specified by DEEP, the testing was performed by a third-party test contractor and was audited by DEEP. The emissions were analyzed for total volatile organic compounds (VOCs), speciated VOCs and particulate matter. Per DEEP's requirement, the testing occurred under representative facility operating conditions and used Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) approved test methods.

In mid-January 2025, based on preliminary stack emissions results, Bright Feeds implemented interim mitigation measures until a Regenerative Thermal Oxidizer (RTO) could be installed. An RTO is an air pollution control device that destroys volatile pollutants and odors via heat, before exhausting them through the stack. The interim measures implemented by Bright Feeds were: (1) reducing the number of hours that the facility operated each day and (2) rejecting certain feedstocks such as uncooked dough that could be reasonably anticipated to generate odors when processed. Bright Feeds completed installation and commissioning of the RTO on April 4, 2025.

DEEP received the verified stack test results in early February 2025. Using the stack test results, DEEP ran an air dispersion model to estimate the highest concentrations of individual VOCs at the location of the most impacted receptor (i.e. person) at or beyond the Bright Feeds property line. On May 5, 2025, DEEP provided the modeled ambient air VOC concentrations to DPH for evaluation.

III. Discussion/Methods

1. Environmental Data

DEEP provided DPH with modeled annual average and maximum 1-hour, 8-hour and 24-hour ambient concentrations for each VOC contaminant detected via the TO-15 stack emissions analysis (email from DEEP, June 3, 2025). DEEP reported that they modeled the location with the highest ambient air impact at or beyond the Bright Feeds property line for each of the averaging periods (annual average, highest 1-hour, highest 8-hour and highest 24-hour). Further, DEEP used the results of the highest emitting stack test run (of the three test runs) for each pollutant. Each stack test run was 1-hour long and each run was conducted with the plant operating at or near the maximum process rate. For the stack flow rate, DEEP used the value from the stack test run with the lowest flow rate, even though such run was not necessarily the highest emitting run for a given pollutant (email from DEEP, June 3, 2025). Lower flow inhibits dispersion so this assumption will result in a more conservative estimate of ambient air impact for the most impacted receptor located directly outside Bright Feed's property line. Further, instead of modeling ethanol concentrations based on TO-15 results, DEEP used the total VOC result from the flame ionization detector (FID), conservatively adjusted the result to account for the weak response factor of ethanol to the FID and assumed that all the detected VOC was ethanol, per DEEP (email from DEEP, June 3, 2025). These assumptions will also result in a more conservative (i.e. health protective) estimate of ambient air impact. DEEP used the air dispersion model AERMOD (version 24142) to estimate the ambient air concentrations.

2. Selection of Contaminants of Potential Concern

DPH followed the Agency for Toxic Substances and Disease Registry (ATSDR) Public Health Assessment Guidance Manual for this evaluation of public health exposures and risks from Bright Feeds emissions (ATSDR 2022). As described in the Guidance Manual, the first step in the process is the screening analysis. The screening analysis identifies contaminants of potential concern by comparing the maximum contaminant concentrations at the site with health-based screening values, also known as comparison values (CVs). Contaminants whose concentrations are below CVs are unlikely to pose health risks. Contaminants whose concentrations meet or exceed a CV do not necessarily pose a health risk but require further evaluation.

Based on the EPA-approved test methods used by Bright Feeds, there were 19 VOCs detected in Bright Feeds' stack emissions. For each of the 19 VOCs, Table 1 provides the maximum stack emission concentration, the highest modeled ambient air concentration at or beyond the property line, the CV and the CV source. There are two chemicals (acetaldehyde and ethanol) whose modeled ambient air concentrations exceed the CVs. Based on this screening evaluation, DPH further evaluated these two chemicals.

It is important to recognize that stack emissions do not represent the concentrations to which people would be exposed because of the dilution and dispersion that occurs once contaminants leave the stack. However, DPH notes that even the highest stack emission concentration for most chemicals does not exceed the CV (as shown in Table 1).

The CVs DPH used for screening are the recommended CVs from ATSDR's Public Health Assessment Site Tool (PHAST) (ATSDR PHAST, accessed May 30, 2025) and from other sources when there were no CVs available in PHAST. DPH notes that there are two chemicals (propanoic acid and n-octane) that did not have CVs or toxicity values available from the hierarchy of acceptable sources (CT DEEP 2018). In order to perform the health-based screening for these two chemicals, DPH used the Recommended Exposure Limits (RELs) developed by the National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health (NIOSH) to be health protective of workers' exposure up to a 10-hour workday during a 40-hour workweek. DPH modified the NIOSH RELs for propanoic acid (30,000 $\mu\text{g}/\text{m}^3$) and n-octane (350,000 $\mu\text{g}/\text{m}^3$) to account for residential exposure (assuming 24-hours per day, 7-days per week) and used additional safety factors to account for possible healthy worker effect (10) and higher inhalation exposure in children (2). These adjusted occupational values are included in Table 1 as CVs.

3. Outdoor Air Exposure Point Concentration

An exposure point concentration (EPC) is the representative contaminant concentration to which people are exposed under past, current or future conditions. DPH identified EPCs for the two chemicals (acetaldehyde and ethanol) whose ambient air concentrations exceed CVs. The EPCs DPH used in this assessment are the estimated concentrations in ambient air as calculated by DEEP's modeling. Table 2 includes the EPCs.

4. Exposure Pathways

We determine exposure to a contaminant of concern by examining human exposure pathways. A completed exposure pathway consists of five elements: a source, a contaminated environmental medium and transport mechanism, a point of exposure, a route of exposure, and a receptor population. There is one completed exposure pathway at this site: inhalation of contaminants in outdoor air (or outdoor air that has entered the indoor air of structures near the Bright Feeds facility). Adults and children living or working near the Bright Feeds facility could be exposed via inhalation of air while outdoors or in their homes or workplaces. People could have been exposed to contaminants from the Bright Feeds facility up to 24 hours per day and 7 days per week, since the time Bright Feeds began its operations in Berlin in October 2022.

We evaluated exposures via inhalation in accordance with ATSDR inhalation guidance (ATSDR 2021). We adjusted the EPC by an exposure factor (EF) to account for the time individuals are exposed to emissions in the air from Bright Feeds. If the exposure is assumed to be continuous (such as in a home), the EF is 1. For this evaluation, we assumed continuous exposure (i.e. 24 hours per day, 365 days per year) to emissions from Bright Feeds. This is a conservative (health protective) assumption considering that people would not be expected to continuously breathe the air at the location of the highest impact from Bright Feeds at or beyond their property line. It was also assumed that the exposure duration is two and a half years. This represents the period of time from when Bright Feeds began operations (October 2022) to the time when the RTO was operational (April 4, 2025). Table 2 includes the exposure factors, exposure assumptions and adjusted EPCs. It should be noted that for the cancer risk calculation, the exposure duration of 2.5 years is averaged across a 78-year lifetime so the EF for the cancer risk calculation is not one, even though it is assumed that exposure during the 2.5-year exposure duration is continuous.

IV. Public Health Implications

1. Cancer Risk Estimate

Of the two contaminants evaluated in this assessment, only acetaldehyde has been identified as a likely human carcinogen by the inhalation pathway. Acetaldehyde is classified as “reasonably anticipated to be a human carcinogen” by the National Toxicology Program (NTP) and a “probable human carcinogen” by EPA (ATSDR PHAST 2025). Ethanol is considered by the International Agency for Research on Cancer (IARC) to be a carcinogen when ingested in alcoholic beverages (IARC 2010), but there is no evidence for its carcinogenicity when inhaled.

In accordance with ATSDR inhalation guidance (ATSDR 2021), we calculated inhalation cancer risks using the EPC (adjusted by the EF) multiplied by an inhalation unit risk (IUR) for cancer. We used the IUR from the EPA Integrated Risk Information System (IRIS). The IUR is the incremental cancer risk posed by a specific concentration in air (typically 1 microgram per cubic meter [$\mu\text{g}/\text{m}^3$]). The cancer risk calculation yields the relative increase in cancer risk (above background cancer rates) from exposure to the pollutant for a specified duration. This is also referred to as the excess lifetime cancer risk (ELCR).

Chemicals that cause cancer by a mutagenic mode of action are evaluated differently from those that are not mutagenic. These chemicals require an additional step in the cancer evaluation because they might result in a higher cancer risk for children than for adults. Acetaldehyde is not identified as a mutagen (EPA Regional Screening Levels [RSL], November 2024).

Table 3 presents the IUR and the estimated cancer risk to residents who could have been exposed to acetaldehyde in emissions from Bright Feeds. The estimated lifetime cancer risk (ELCR) is $5\text{E-}8$ (5×10^{-8}), or 5 excess cancer cases in 100 million exposed people. This risk estimate is much less than one excess cancer in one million exposed ($1\text{E-}6$).

A cancer risk of $1\text{E-}6$ is meaningful because it is the cancer risk limit Connecticut uses to derive cleanup criteria for individual chemicals at hazardous waste sites (CT Remediation Standard Regulations). A cancer risk level of less than 1E-6 is considered insignificant or de minimus.¹ Chemicals present at concentrations less than CT's cleanup criteria are considered to pose insignificant risks. Thus, they do not need to be cleaned up, and exposure to the chemical does not need to be reduced or stopped. Cancer risks from inhalation of acetaldehyde in outdoor air near the Bright Feeds facility are extremely low (20 times less than the de minimus level of 1E-6). Therefore, exposures are not expected to pose cancer impacts in the community.

2. Noncancer Risk Estimates

In accordance with ATSDR guidance (ATSDR 2021), we evaluate the likelihood of noncancer health effects from inhalation by calculating hazard quotients (HQ) for individual chemicals identified as contaminants of potential concern. The inhalation HQ is the ratio of the EPC (adjusted by the exposure factor) to a noncancer toxicity value. For inhalation, this is a minimal risk level (MRL) or a reference concentration (RfC). A MRL or a RfC is the concentration of a contaminant in air that is unlikely to cause noncancer health impacts for the specified duration of exposure. MRLs and RfCs can be developed for long exposure durations (chronic), intermediate durations (subchronic) and brief durations (acute). We evaluated noncancer health impacts from acute and chronic exposures to ethanol and acetaldehyde. For acetaldehyde, we used EPA's chronic RfC (EPA IRIS 1991) and an acute 8-hour reference exposure level (REL) from California's Office of Environmental Health Hazard Assessment (OEHHA 2013); both values are based on nasal effects in rodents. For acute exposure to acetaldehyde, we selected the acute 8-hour REL of 300 µg/m³ based on nasal effects in rodents because it is more health protective than the acute 1-hour REL of 470 µg/m³ based on data in humans (bronchoconstriction in asthmatics). For ethanol, we used a chronic RfC derived by DPH in 2024 (CT DPH 2024) extrapolated from a DPH-derived oral RfD based on developmental effects (CT DEEP 2018). There is no acute RfC available for ethanol, so acute exposures were not evaluated.

If the HQ is equal to or less than 1, noncancer health impacts are unlikely to result from exposure to the contaminant. If the HQ is greater than 1, further evaluation may be warranted by reviewing the principal and supporting studies used to develop the health guideline. We calculated HQs for chronic health effects for acetaldehyde and ethanol. We calculated an acute HQ for acetaldehyde. Inhalation toxicity values and HQs are shown in Table 4.

As shown in Table 4, the chronic HQ for acetaldehyde is 0.07 and the acute HQ is 0.02. Both HQs are below 1. A HQ of 1 is significant because it is the noncancer risk limit Connecticut uses to develop cleanup criteria for individual chemicals at hazardous waste sites (CT Remediation Standard Regulations). Chemicals at concentrations equal to or less than a HQ of 1 are not considered to pose significant risks and therefore do not need to be addressed. Exposures from chronic and acute inhalation of acetaldehyde in outdoor air near the Bright Feeds facility are below a HQ of 1. Therefore, chronic and acute noncancer health impacts from acetaldehyde are unlikely.

Table 4 also shows that the chronic HQ for ethanol is 1. As stated above, if the HQ is equal to or less than 1, noncancer health impacts are unlikely to result from exposure to the contaminant. Therefore, chronic exposure to ethanol in outdoor air near the Bright Feeds facility is unlikely to pose noncancer health impacts to community members.

3. Odor Evaluation

Many substances in the environment can produce odors. People may smell and react to chemicals in the air before they are at harmful levels. These odors can become a nuisance and cause temporary symptoms such as headache, nausea, eye, nose, throat and lung irritation, cough, nasal congestion, chest tightness and shortness of breath. These symptoms generally occur at the time of exposure. Their intensity depends on the strength of the odors in the air, how frequently the odors are present and how long the exposure lasts. Symptoms generally resolve when the level of the odor in the air is reduced or when the person moves to an area without the odor. Some groups of people may be more sensitive to nuisance environmental odors. These include people with asthma, children, older adults and people who are pregnant (ATSDR 2024).

Importantly, everyone reacts to odors differently. Some people are much more sensitive to odors than others. People who are more sensitive to an odor may be able to detect an odor and may experience symptoms at lower concentrations than other people. In general, as the odor level increases, more people will be able to detect the odor, and more people may experience symptoms. Environmental odors are not necessarily toxic. As stated above, people may be able to detect odors in the air at concentrations well below harmful or toxic levels. However, if the concentration of a substance in the air is high enough, is present often enough and lasts a long time, an odor can become toxic (ATSDR 2024).

Because of the complaints from the community about odors from the Bright Feeds facility and the fact that DEEP documented nuisance odors from the facility, DPH evaluated air data from the Bright Feeds facility using odor thresholds. The purpose of this comparison with odor thresholds is to better understand the magnitude of odor impacts from Bright Feeds. For this comparison, DPH used the highest modeled ambient air concentration (Table 1) at or beyond the property fence line for each of the 19 VOCs detected in stack emissions and compared it to odor thresholds from the peer-reviewed literature (Amoore 1983; EPA 1992, Hellman 1974; Hodgson 2003, Leonardos 1969, NJ Department of Health 2012, Ruth 1986). An odor threshold is the minimum concentration of a chemical that is perceivable by the human sense of smell. As stated previously, there is a large degree of variability in people's ability to detect odors. Therefore, odor thresholds are typically reported as ranges rather than a specific concentration. DPH's evaluation, using the lowest level in the odor threshold range, shows that there is only one chemical (Acetaldehyde) whose highest modeled ambient air concentration was above its odor threshold (Table 5). A variety of studies indicate that acetaldehyde's odor, described as "pungent" and "fruity", becomes detectable in the 0.20-4140 µg/m³ range (EPA 1992, Ruth 1986). Of note, all four of the modeled ambient concentrations for acetaldehyde (annual average (0.67 µg/m³), maximum 1-hour (6.82 µg/m³), 8-hour (4.84 µg/m³), and 24-hour (3.71 µg/m³) were well above the lower end of the odor detection range. This supports the finding by DEEP that odors were present at and beyond the Bright Feeds facility and also supports the experience of community members who reported odors.

With regard to health impacts from odors, as stated previously, exposure to environmental nuisance odors does not necessarily result in harmful permanent or long-term health impacts (as opposed to the short-term symptoms described above). Levels of odor chemicals must be high enough and be present frequently enough and for a long enough duration to have the potential for harmful health impacts. As explained above, DPH's evaluation of cancer and non-cancer risks from exposure to acetaldehyde at modeled ambient air concentrations concludes that exposures are not expected to harm the health of community members.

V. Uncertainties and Limitations

DPH has identified the following uncertainties and limitations in this evaluation:

- DPH's cancer and noncancer risk estimates are not based on measured ambient air data, rather they are based on ambient air data that was modeled by DEEP using results of stack emission tests. DEEP used a number of conservative assumptions in their modeling. DPH also used conservative assumptions in their exposure assessment to estimate health risks.
- The stack emission tests were conducted on one day, and DEEP took steps to ensure that testing was conducted while the facility was operating within 90 percent of its maximum process rate and using representative feedstocks. However, emissions could have been higher or lower on other days.
- The analytical method used for the stack emissions test (TO-15) measures a wide range of volatile organic compounds but does not measure every possible volatile contaminant that could be emitted.
- DEEP used a Gaussian dispersion model to estimate ambient pollutant concentration. This model does not account for any chemical reactions that occur after each pollutant is emitted from the stack.
- DPH's evaluation is limited to exposure to VOCs.
- DPH's evaluation assumes that exposure to VOCs in air emissions from Bright Feeds does not continue after the RTO was operational (April 4, 2025), as properly operating RTOs typically achieve a VOC destruction efficiency in the mid- to high-90 percent range by volume and as this particular RTO will be subject to permit-required destruction efficiency testing.
- DPH's evaluation does not include a quantitative evaluation of odors because there is no established risk assessment process to quantify odor impacts. Instead, DPH evaluated odors qualitatively.

VI. Conclusions

DPH has reached the following conclusions based on its assessment of exposure to contaminants in outdoor air from the Bright Feeds facility.

- Concentrations of most of the contaminants measured in the Bright Feeds stack emissions are below conservative health screening values.
- Modeled ambient air concentrations, which represent community exposure better than stack emissions, are much lower than stack emissions because there is dilution and dispersion that occurs after contaminants leave the stack.
- On initial screening, two chemicals (ethanol and acetaldehyde) whose ambient air concentrations exceeded health protective screening values were identified as potential contaminants of concern that required further evaluation using site-specific exposure information.
- Results of further evaluation show that breathing ethanol and acetaldehyde at the ambient air concentrations modeled by DEEP from the startup of the Bright Feeds Facility to the installation of the RTO is not expected to harm people's health. There are two reasons for this:
 1. Cancer risk associated with site-specific exposure of 2.5 years is extremely low, much lower than the screening value risk based on a default exposure assumption of 78 years, and well below the de minimus (insignificant) level, and

- 2. Noncancer risks from exposure are at a level where health impacts are unlikely to occur.
- Concentrations of one contaminant in stack emissions and ambient air (acetaldehyde) are within the range that could be detected as odors and could have resulted in short-term health symptoms, but the odors themselves are unlikely to cause long-term or permanent health effects.

Agenda Item No. 2
Request for Town Council Action

TO: The Honorable Mayor and Town Council
FROM: Ryan Curley, Town Manager RC
DATE: January 12, 2026
SUBJECT: Griswold School ACM Abatement Proposal Approval

Summary of Agenda Item:

Griswold School had all remaining accessible ACM floor tile and mastic within the classrooms abated over ten years ago. As part of the HVAC Renovations project, the existing classroom ventilators will be removed and replaced with new four pipe fan coil units. The classrooms in the original part of the school where previous abatements were performed have some residual ACM tile and mastic under the units that will no longer be encapsulated with the installation of the new fan coil units requiring abatement. The asbestos testing was performed by on-call contractor EnviroMed Services of Meriden, CT who will also provide the work plan, State paperwork and clearance testing after abatement. HazPros, Inc. of West Hartford, CT has provided a proposal in the amount of $38,700 utilizing State of CT DAS contract no. 20PSX0154 for all the required remaining abatement in 18 classrooms. A 20 percent contingency is being requested bringing the total project cost to an amount not to exceed $46,440. This was reviewed and approved by the PBC.

Funding:

500.35.3561.0.54000.00365 HVAC-Griswold

Action Needed:

Move to utilize State of CT DAS Contract no. 20PSX 0154 and approve the proposal from HazPros, Inc. of West Hartford, CT in the amount of $46,440 which includes a twenty percent contingency for the required remaining asbestos abatement under the existing classroom unit ventilators at Griswold School as approved by the Public Building Commission.

I. PROJECT NARRATIVE

Overview

On December 8 & 17, 2025, EnviroMed Services asbestos inspector John Luby (License #281) conducted inspections of the flooring under the fan coil units at Griswold School, 133 Heather Lane, Kensington, CT. Berlin maintenance personnel lifted-up the corner of fan coil units where feasible (all fan coil units were not accessible for inspection). The purpose of this inspection was to ascertain whether vinyl floor tile & mastic is under the existing fan coil units at Griswold School and, if present, the asbestos content of the vinyl floor tile & mastic. The inspection was conducted in preparation for fan coil replacement.

Samples were collected according to 40 CFR Part 763.86 and analyzed using Polarized Light Microscopy (PLM).

A total of seventeen (17) bulk PLM samples were collected and analyzed. The materials sampled included:

- Vinyl Floor Tile – Beige, Brown, Light Brown, & Light Gray Tile
- Floor Tile Mastic – Black Mastic

Summary of Results

EnviroMed Services Inc. accredited asbestos laboratory analyzed the bulk samples. The complete laboratory report can be found in Section IV.

The following locations and estimated quantities of materials were found to be asbestos-containing ($\geq 1\%$ asbestos):

- Room CW-2 – Mastic under FCU: There is approximately 15 square feet of black flooring mastic that is asbestos-containing.
- Room E-1 – Mastic under FCU: There is approximately 15 square feet of black flooring mastic that is asbestos-containing.
- Room E-2 – Mastic under FCU: There is approximately 15 square feet of black flooring mastic that is asbestos-containing.
- Room E-3 – Mastic under FCU: There is approximately 15 square feet of black flooring mastic that is asbestos-containing.
- Room E-4 – Mastic under FCU: There is approximately 15 square feet of black flooring mastic that is asbestos-containing.

Observations

In all cases, a layer of thin plywood is present between the bottom of the fan coil unit and the underlying vinyl or concrete floor finish. When the fan coil unit and associated plywood was lifted up, the underlying floor tile tended to stick to the plywood. Where floor tile was present under the fan coil unit, it looked delaminated and fragile.

The original core of the school (E-1, E-2, E-3, E-4, E-5, CE-1, CE-2, CE-3, CW-1, CW-2, CW-3, K-2, K-3, K-4, K-5, W-3, W-4, W-5, W-6) exhibited a fairly consistent pattern of having an older floor tile & mastic under the fan coil unit. The pattern indicates that the floor tile in the entire room was removed during a renovation and the old flooring was left under the fan coil unit.

The addition portion of the school (W-7, W-8, W-9, CE-4, CE-5, CW-4, CW-5, E-7, E-8, & E-9) exhibited a fairly constant pattern of the carpet or main field floor tile not extending under the fan coil unit (except for an inch or two tuck-in) – with bare concrete under the fan coil unit. The pattern indicates that the fan coil unit was installed prior to the installation of the flooring in the room.

Recommendations

In the addition portion of the school, the fan coil units can be removed without disturbing the existing flooring around it and no tile/mastic is present under the fan coils. Patching-in the bare concrete under the fan coil with new VCT is recommended prior to new fan coil installation.

In the original core of the school, the fan coil units are set on loose tile. We recommend that after the fan coil unit is removed, have a licensed asbestos abatement contractor remove the floor tile & mastic under the fan coil unit. Patching the abated concrete floor with new VCT following abatement and prior to new fan coil unit installation is recommended.

V. REGULATORY REQUIREMENTS FOR ASBESTOS TESTING

Cleaner environment. Safer workplaces.

Regulatory Requirements or Asbestos Testing and Methodology for Sampling

Regulatory Requirements for Asbestos Testing

A property Owner must ensure that a thorough ACM inspection is performed prior to possible disturbance of suspect ACM during renovation or demolition activities. This is a requirement of the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), National Emission Standards for Hazardous Air Pollutants (NESHAP) regulation located at Title 40 CFR, Part 61, Subpart M. In addition, the OSHA Construction Industry Standard Section 1926.1101(k)(2)(i) states the following: Before work subject to the OSHA standard is begun, building and facility owners shall determine the presence, location, and quantity of asbestos containing materials and or presumed asbestos containing materials at the worksite.

The EPA, the Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA), and the Connecticut Department of Public Health (DPH) define any material that contains one percent or greater ($\geq 1\%$) asbestos, utilizing PLM/DS, as being an Asbestos Containing Material. While the EPA, CT DPH, MA DLS & RI DPH identify materials containing less than one percent ($< 1\%$) as a non-asbestos containing material, OSHA worker protection regulations apply to materials containing any amount of asbestos based on the OSHA Construction Industry Standard 1926.1101.

Prior to disturbance, ACM that would likely be impacted by the proposed renovation/demolition activities must first be abated by a state-licensed Asbestos Abatement Contractor. This is a requirement of CT DPH, MA DLS & RI DPH and EPA NESHAP regulations governing asbestos abatement. Additionally, the EPA has suggested that materials that are Non-Friable Organically Bound (NOB) materials (e.g., asphaltic-based materials, adhesives, etc.) are recommended for further confirmatory analysis utilizing Transmission Electron Microscopy (TEM).

Methodology for Sampling and Laboratory Analysis

The limited inspection was conducted by visually inspecting for suspect ACM and touching each of the suspect water/fire damaged materials that will be impacted by the renovation. The suspect materials were categorized into three Groups - EPA, NESHAP Groups, Friable and Non-Friable Category I and Category II Type ACM.

A Friable Material is defined as material that contains one percent or greater ($\geq 1\%$) asbestos that when dry can be crumbled, pulverized, or reduced to powder by hand pressure.

- A Category I Non-Friable Material refers to material that contains one percent or greater ($\geq 1\%$) asbestos (i.e., packings, gaskets, resilient floor coverings, and asphalt roofing products) that when dry cannot be crumbled, pulverized, or reduced to powder by hand pressure.
- A Category II Non-Friable Material refers to any non-friable material excluding Category 1 materials that contain greater than one percent or greater ($\geq 1\%$) asbestos that when dry cannot be crumbled, pulverized, or reduced to powder by hand pressure.

The suspect ACM were also categorized into their applications including Thermal System Insulation (TSI), Surfacing ACM (S), and Miscellaneous ACM (M). TSI includes those materials used to prevent heat loss/gain or water condensation on mechanical systems. Examples of TSI are pipe insulation, boiler insulation, ductinsulation, and mudded pipe fitting insulations. Surfacing ACM includes those ACM that are applied by spray, trowel, or otherwise applied to an existing surface. Surfacing ACM is commonly used for fireproofing, decorative, and acoustical applications. Miscellaneous materials include those ACM not listed as thermal or surfacing, such as linoleum, vinyl asbestos flooring, ceiling tiles, caulking, glues, construction adhesives, etc.

The EPA recommends collecting suspect ACM samples in a manner sufficient to determine asbestos content and to segregate each suspect type of homogenous (similar in color, texture, and date of application) materials. The EPA, NESHAP regulation does recommend the use of sampling protocols.

The EPA AHERA Regulation requires a specific number of samples be collected based on the type of material and quantity present. This regulation includes the following protocol:

Surfacing Materials (S) (i.e., plasters, spray-applied fire proofing, etc.) must be collected in randomly distributed manner representing each homogenous area based on the overall quantity represented by the sampling as follows:

- Three (3) samples collected from each homogeneous area that is less than or equal to 1,000 square feet.
- Five (5) samples collected from each homogeneous area that is greater than 1,000 square feet, but less than or equal to 5,000 square feet.
- Seven (7) samples collected from each homogeneous area that is greater than 5,000 square feet.

Thermal System Insulation (TSI), (i.e., pipe insulations, tank insulations, etc.) must be collected in a randomly distributed manner representing each homogenous area. Three (3) samples must be collected from each material. Also, a minimum of one (1) sample of any patching materials applied to TSI presuming the patched area is less than six (6) linear or square feet should be collected.

Miscellaneous materials (M), (i.e., floor tile, gaskets, construction mastics, etc.) should have a minimum of two (2) samples collected for each type of homogenous material. Sample collection was conducted in a manner sufficient to determine asbestos content of the homogenous material as determined by the inspector.

The inspector collected samples of those suspect ACM anticipated to be disturbed by the proposed renovations to address impacted building materials and prepared a proper chain of custody form for transmission of the samples to EnviroMed Services, Inc. for analysis. EnviroMed Services is a Connecticut licensed and American Industrial Hygiene Association (AIHA)-accredited asbestos laboratory. The sample locations, material type, sample identification, and asbestos content are identified by bulk sample analysis in Table 1 attached hereto. Suspect ACM not listed in the table that may be identified at a later date at the Site, should be assumed to be ACM until sample collection and analysis indicate otherwise. Initial asbestos sample analysis was conducted using the EPA Interim.

Method for the Determination of Asbestos in Bulk Building Materials (EPA/600/R-93/116) via Polarized Light Microscopy with Dispersion Staining (PLM/DS). Suspect materials encountered during renovation that are not identified in this report as being non-ACM should be presumed to be ACM until sample collection and laboratory analysis indicate otherwise.

Agenda Item No.: 3
Request for Town Council Action

TO: The Honorable Mayor and Town Council
FROM: Ryan Curley, Town Manager RC
DATE: January 12, 2026
SUBJECT: Waive the Towns Purchasing Requirements for Berlin Auto Center Autobody for contractual services, towing, and repair of Town vehicles.

Summary of Agenda Item:

Throughout fiscal year 2026, the town's fleet has faced multiple incidents that resulted in body damage to several vehicles. In addition to the costs associated with these repairs, further expenditures have been incurred for services such as towing and DMV inspections. These combined services have increased overall spending with Berlin Auto Center, located in Berlin, CT. To date, the total amount paid to this vendor has reached $19,000, with repairs to police vehicle #4 alone totaling over $13,000. Considering past expenditures and the ongoing necessity for fleet maintenance and related services, it is projected that the cumulative spending will exceed the $25,000 threshold before the fiscal year concludes.

Jim Simons, Fleet Manager, is formally requesting a waiver of the town's purchasing requirements. Approval of this waiver would authorize expenditures up to $40,000 with Berlin Auto Center for the current fiscal year. This action is intended to ensure that the town maintains uninterrupted access to essential fleet services, including repairs, towing, and inspections.

Funding:

Insurance account # 450.15.1532.0.54000.00004 Police Vehicles
Contractual Service # 001.20.2035.0.53814.00000 Auto Parts # 001.20.20350.53233.00000

Action Needed:

Move to waive the Town of Berlin's purchasing requirements for the ongoing repair of municipal vehicles by Berlin Auto Center of Berlin, CT. This waiver shall authorize expenditures up to, but not exceeding, $40,000 for the current fiscal year. This action is recommended as being in the best interest of the Town to ensure the continued maintenance and operational readiness of its fleet.

SUBJECT: Enhancements to the Firefighters Reward Program

Summary of Agenda Item:

Over the past year, the Firefighters Reward program has undergone a thorough review. As a result, several enhancements are recommended to better support the fire department. These proposed changes will offer incremental increases to the pay structure for each Active Member, reflecting their level of involvement and contribution.

Proposed Compensation Changes

Rank	Current Compensation	Proposed Change
Firefighter	$800	$1000
Driver/Operator	$1,000	$1,300
Officer	$1,200	$1,500
Chief	$1,400	$1,700

Additional Compensation Opportunities:

In addition to the base compensation, firefighters may be eligible for extra pay by participating in the following roles and activities:

- Forman/Engineers (responsible for FD equipment, two per station): $200 each
- Medically Trained and Licensed personnel: $200 each
- Company Training Officer (one per company): $200
- Company Safety Officer (one per company): $200

Eligibility Requirements:

To qualify for rewards, members must be in good standing and complete the following within the calendar year:

- Attend 12 mandatory training sessions per year
- Complete a medical examination by the doctor of record
- Earn 30 points through meetings, drills, or activities (1 point each)
- Participate in at least 30% of their available incidents

Extra Duty Pay:

Firefighters are often required to perform additional duties beyond their regular responsibilities, such as providing Fire Protection Watch, participating in public appearances, and conducting public education events. These activities play a crucial role in increasing the visibility of the Fire Department within the community, which in turn supports recruitment efforts.

At present, firefighters receive compensation of $60 for each four-hour event when performing these extra duties. This rate applies to all qualifying activities, including Fire Protection Watch, public appearances, and public education. The Fire Department is requesting an increase in the extra duty pay rate from $60 to $100 for a four-hour event. This adjustment is intended to better compensate firefighters for their time and effort in fulfilling these important public-facing roles.

Reward Payout Schedule:

Payouts are distributed quarterly throughout the calendar year as follows:

- January – March earnings are paid in April
- April – June earnings are paid in July
- July – September earnings are paid in October
- October – December earnings are paid in January

Implementation Timeline:

If the proposed enhancements to the rewards program, if approved, firefighters will see these changes reflected in their first quarter check, which will be issued in April with the exception of the “Additional Duty Events”, that will start July 1, 2026.

Funding:

Reward Account: # 001.15.1531.0.51800.00000

The Fire Department’s reward account, numbered 51800.00000, is currently funded at $88,500 for fiscal year 2026.

After a detailed review of 2025 firefighter participation, the estimated funding required to support the rewards program is approximately $71,000. If every eligible member, including 10 probationary firefighters and 4 cadets (a total of 82 members), fulfills the requirements, the total needed could reach $90,600. The current funding in the reward account should be sufficient for fiscal year 2026. However, the reward account for fiscal year 2027 will require an increase of $2,100 to ensure adequate coverage.

Compensation (Additional Duties) #001.15.1531.0.51801.0000

The extra pay account, numbered 51801.00000, has a current allocation of $12,000.

Since July 1, 2025, firefighters have participated in 180 four-hour duty blocks. The majority of these hours are attributed to two major events: the Berlin Fair fire watch and town standby, and the station coverage provided to the town of Plainville fire Department following the tragic death of one of their firefighters. To date, $10,800 of the $12,000 budget has been spent. To accommodate ongoing needs and the proposed increase in extra duty pay, an estimated $10,900 increase in this account will be necessary for fiscal year 2027.

Summary of Agenda Item:

The America 250 | Berlin co-chairs received the following email from the America 250 |CT Commission on Friday, January 9, 2026:

“As we have previously noted, the national America250 commission owns the trademark to their logo and the wordmark to America250. Any organization or municipality wishing to use either the logo or words as part of their own logo or programming must execute the sublicensing agreement linked here to gain permission to do so. Please review the cover sheet linked here, which summarizes the conditions and restrictions of the agreement, and contact us at info@ct250.org with any questions. These files may also be found on the Affiliate Resources and Local Resources pages of ct250.org.

If your organization or municipality wishes to sublicense the America250 logo and phrase for non-commercial use, please return the completed and executed sublicensing agreement to info@ct250.org. Once the commission has returned the fully executed agreement to you, your organization or municipality will be considered an official sublicensee for authorized use of the logo/wordmark.

The America 250 | CT Commission will not require organizations and municipalities to complete the sublicensing agreement if they do not wish to do so – in this case, please review the cover sheet for approved alternate phrasing and refrain from using America250.”

H. PUBLIC HEARING:

The Town Council of the Town of Berlin will meet at Berlin Town Hall, Council Chambers, 240 Kensington Road, Berlin, CT on Tuesday, January 6, 2026, at 7:00 p.m. for the purpose of holding a public hearing as follows:

For consideration of the Town of Berlin to become a member municipality of the Connecticut Municipal Development Authority (CMDA).

Dated at Berlin, Connecticut this 18th day of December 2025.

Mayor Kaczynski called the Public Hearing to order at 7:16 p.m. and asked Economic Development Director Chris Edge to speak.

Mr. Edge stated that the Connecticut Municipal Development Authority (CMDA) is a quasi-public agency formed in 2024 to work with communities with transit hubs. CMDA would work with the Town to review current zoning regulations in the train station area. The Town is not required to take actions on their recommendations. Becoming a member could also provide grant opportunities to the Town as well as low interest loans to developers.

Mayor Kaczynski asked if there were any public comments.

Don Forcash, 992 Worthington Ridge – Mr. Forcash asked how many towns in Connecticut have joined the CMDA. Mr. Edge stated that there are about 30 towns.

Mayor Kaczynski closed the Public Hearing at 7:20 p.m.

I. NEW BUSINESS:

- 1. Topic re: Authorize Town Manager Ryan Curley to have the Town of Berlin join the Connecticut Municipal Development Authority as a member municipality. - Economic Development

Town Manager Curley stated that this item was the subject of tonight's Public Hearing.

David Kooris, Executive Director of CMDA, stated that the organization can only work with communities that have a train station, a bus rapid transit station, or a downtown area and currently works with 32 municipalities.

Councilor Coppola asked if the Planning and Zoning Commission (PZC) had provided their opinion on joining CMDA. Mr. Edge stated that the PZC had been invited to the original meeting with CMDA. Town Manager Curley stated that the PZC has been a part of the process from the beginning and added that any recommendations made by CMDA would need to be approved by the PZC. Mr. Kooris added that CMDA would only be looking at zoning regulations within a half mile of the train station.

Councilor Veach stated she has reservations when it comes to items that affect zoning. Councilor Paonessa stated that at this point the Town would only be speaking with CMDA and hearing recommendations from the organization and he believes it would be a good opportunity for Berlin.

Councilor Paonessa moved to authorize Town Manager Ryan Curley to have the Town of Berlin join the Connecticut Municipal Development Authority as a member municipality.

Seconded by Councilor Veach.

Those voting in favor: Councilor Atkinson, Councilor Coppola, Councilor Paonessa, Councilor Pruzin, Councilor Veach, Mayor Kaczynski.

3. Topic re: Presentation from the Friends of the Worthington Meeting House. – FOWMH

Town Manager Curley introduced Lorraine Stub and Nancy Moran.

Ms. Stub thanked the Town Council for approving funds for painting and external repairs to the Worthington Meeting House. She added that both she and Nancy are members of the Friends of the Worthington Meeting House (FOWMH) which is the non-profit organization raising funds for building.

Ms. Moran presented a slide presentation of the history of the Meeting House, a copy of which is attached to these minutes. Highlights include; the building was built in 1774 and is the longest standing public building in Berlin, from 1775 until 1850 the meeting house served as a church, town hall, and community meeting place, in 1855 the Town purchased the building and it became the Worthington town hall and also housed the Center School, in 1907 the town hall consolidated with the Kensington town hall and moved further down Worthington Ridge to Brandegee Hall, at that time the building was adapted again and became Worthington School, from 1957 until 1974 the building housed the Board of Education, and finally in 1977 the Town conveyed it to the Berlin Historical Society and it was renamed the Worthington Meeting House again and was restored to its' original exterior 1775 appearance.

In 2005 the Friends of the Worthington Meeting House was formed and from 2012 through 2017 design concept plans for the interior restoration were drawn and modified. In 2019 the FOWMH began a campaign to solicit donations to raise at least $2.5 million for that renovation and has raised $70,000 to date.

Ms. Stub presented a virtual tour of the proposed renovations to the Meeting House stating that the original three-sided balcony would be rebuilt, the first floor would contain a large open meeting space as well as two offices or even a gift shop, and the basement would contain a kitchen and additional meeting rooms.

Ms. Stub stated that she hopes that this Town Council will support the continued restoration of the Meeting House just as it recently supported the Berlin Land Trust's purchase of the Augustus Moore House property, as both are important assets to the history of Berlin. Restoring the cupola and exterior painting and repairs are the first new steps in the preservation of the building and for that the FOWMH are very grateful.

Ms. Stub stated that the FOWMH needs town officials to be more than silent partners. It has been difficult to get wealthy donors to commit as they have stated that they feel town officials are not committed to the project.

The FOWMH has been told that the next step would be to obtain full construction plans. Prior plans were obtained in 2018, but new plans would be needed. The FOWMH hopes that the Town would be willing to cover the cost of those plans with a potential commitment of more funding for construction to follow.

Historic preservation construction grants are few and are highly competitive. A preliminary grant application was submitted to the State for the exterior painting, but the FOWMH were not selected, and in 2025 federal historic preservation grants were reduced from $5 million to $1 million.

More information on the building and restoration project can be found on the organization's website: <https://www.worthingtonmeetinghouse.org/>

4. Topic re: Approve the 2026 Timberlin Golf Course Rates. – Golf Course

Director of Golf Sol Guerrero stated that as the Town Ordinance requires that Timberlin Golf Course revenue must equal expenses, the Golf Course Commission recommends minimal increases to the 2026 rates.

Rates have been increased on in-demand areas of outings, leagues, and season passes for both residents and non-residents. Daily fees for residents that did not increase in 2025 will increase in 2026 by $1, and outing prices have been restructured to include Friday in the weekend pricing. Mr. Guerrero added that Timberlin's prices remain slightly above average in comparison to area courses.

Councilor Pruzin inquired about the military rates. Mr. Guerrero stated that the Golf Commission provides those rates to active-duty military as well as veterans.

Councilor Paonessa moved to approve the 2026 Timberlin Golf Course Rates.

Seconded by Councilor Veach.

Those voting in favor: Councilor Atkinson, Councilor Coppola, Councilor Paonessa, Councilor Pruzin, Councilor Veach, Mayor Kaczynski.

Vote being 6-0 (MOTION CARRIED)

5. Topic re: Adopt the 2026 Town of Berlin fee schedule and allow amendments to the fee schedule to include updated Regional Health District and any Statutory-based fees, as necessary. – Finance

Finance Director Kevin Delaney stated that there are no new fees being added to the schedule for 2026. Fee changes include an increase to quarantine and boarding fees for Animal Control which have not increased in many years therefore this increase is to bring them in line with costs.

Costs to provide Parks and Recreation services have increased slightly due to increases in the costs to run programs, Timberlin Golf Course changes were reviewed in the previous agenda item, and fee increases from the Central Connecticut Health District (CCHD) were updated on July 1, 2025 and they have the authority to alter their fees at any time. Any changes from the CCHD will be incorporated into the fee schedule by the Finance Director and the updated schedule will be posted on the Town website.

Councilor Paonessa moved to adopt the 2026 Town of Berlin fee schedule and allow amendments to the fee schedule to include updated Regional Health District and any Statutory-based fees, as necessary.

The acquisition and outfitting will be conducted through McGovern Municipal of Shrewsbury, MA, utilizing CT DAS Contract #22PSX0133. Fleet Manager Jim Simons stated that within the past three weeks, the Police Department has encountered significant challenges with its patrol fleet, as five vehicles have been involved in motor vehicle accidents placing additional strain on the remaining vehicles and personnel. One of the affected vehicles, a unit outfitted specifically for police K9 operations, has been deemed a total loss and will require complete replacement.

To address the immediate needs resulting from the loss of the K9 vehicle, the department will equip an existing 2019 model year patrol vehicle with the necessary K9 equipment. The equipment will be salvaged from the totaled K9 vehicle and installed at a cost of $8,458.80.

Funds for the replacement for the unrepairable K9 unit were part of the funding received during tonight's Town Meeting and replacement cost for that unit will be $71,841.00.

A 2000 model-year Ford Expedition was involved in an accident on December 28, 2025. The Town's insurance adjuster agreed not to total the vehicle and details of the final repair cost are being determined. Therefore, the third request of this agenda item is not required at this time.

Councilor Paonessa moved to award contracting with McGovern Municipal of Shrewsbury MA.to complete the transfer of K9 enclosure and upgrades to a town own police vehicle, utilizing CT DAS Contract # 22PSX0133 for an amount not to exceed $8,458.80.

K. TOWN MANAGER'S REPORT:

- As Mayor Kaczynski stated earlier this evening, the Bright Feeds air quality test results will be discussed at the January 20th Town Council meeting. The report is currently posted under “In the Spotlight” on the Town of Berlin website.

Councilor Pruzin stated that noise complaints from residents were posted on social media recently. Town Manager Curley stated his office has not received any complaints recently.

- Vesta Corporation hopes to close on the purchase of the Percival Avenue property for Senior Housing in early March.
- The Fire Services Committee will be meeting prior to the January 20th Town Council meeting at 6:30 p.m.
- The YMCA was unable to attend a scheduled meeting with the Town and State regarding discussing the ability for the YMCA to utilize the Town's existing grant funds through a pass-through agreement to conduct a feasibility study on the Patterson Way property. A new meeting is to be scheduled. The original grant amount was $750,000 with $500,000 remaining. Mayor Kaczynski added that the Town can also benefit from the results of the feasibility study.

L. SPECIAL COMMITTEE REPORTS:

None

M. COUNCILORS' COMMUNICATION:

Councilor Coppola stated that in October Zack's Burgers and Shakes on Farmington Avenue was recognized as "Connecticut's Best Burger".

Councilor Coppola stated that she would like the Town Council to present a proclamation to the Berlin High School football team which recently won the Class M state championship. The Town Manager will reach out to the team regarding scheduling.

Councilor Pruzin inquired about the status of the Town Charter revision. Mayor Kaczynski asked to make the discussion of Charter Revision an agenda item for the next meeting.

Councilor Veach inquired about the status of the parking fee situation at the high school. Mayor Kaczynski stated that the topic was addressed with the Board of Education (BOE) through a letter sent by the Town as well during a BOE meeting, but they have not made any changes or addressed the subject. They have also not explained the reason for needing additional revenue. Corporation Counsel Donofrio stated that the BOE is not supposed to be generating revenue that is not directed to offset expenditures, and as the Town maintains the school parking lot, what is that revenue being used for.

Corporation Counsel Donofrio added that after serving many years on the BOE in another town as well as representing several municipalities, he has seen the tug of war between towns and their BOEs especially in the past 20 years or so and he equates it to the State's inability to fulfill their obligation to adequately fund education in Connecticut.
